

Competition is good for the radio industry. Also, american radio is being taken over by corporations that are killing our beloved radio stations. Satelite radio provides an option that does not include commercials being continually rammed into your ears when you are a regular listener. Remember when MTV used to play music?